PNC Mezzanine Capital announces their platform company, RKTM Holdings, completed the add-on acquisition of Macek Power

PNC Mezzanine Capital is pleased to announce their platform company, RKTM Holdings, completed the add-on acquisition of Macek Power (“Macek”).

Macek is a manufacturer of steam turbine stator and rotor blades, fluid film, thrust bearings, and impellers for industrial turbomachinery. Headquartered in Houston, TX, Macek also provides consulting services, power generation engineering, and technical support for steam turbines and turbomachinery. The addition of Macek to the RKTM platform enhances the inhouse manufacturing and engineering capabilities to better serve customers.

“The Macek acquisition greatly enhances our manufacturing capacity and capability, which includes enhancing our ability to make bearings up to 28”, compressor impellers, and turbine blades” commented Paul DeWeese, CEO at RKTM Holdings. RKTM is a highly acquisitive platform and is actively searching for add-on acquisitions with the following criteria:

- Turbine and turbomachinery component and part manufacturers
- Turbine and turbomachinery maintenance and repair businesses
- Industrial field service and consulting
- Complimentary critical industrial power parts (ie. Pumps, Bearings, Compressors)

If you know of a company with any of the criteria above, please contact Paul DeWeese at paul.deweese@revakkeene.com or Mike Venditti at michael.venditti@pncmezzanine.com.

About RKTM Holdings

Founded in 1981, Revak Keene Turbomachinery (“RKTM”) offers a “one-stop-shop” capability to remanufacture, modify, and upgrade steam turbines, pumps, gears, and complete steam turbine systems for industrial customers. RKTM also manufactures and refurbishes control systems and bearings, while maintaining a robust turbomachinery parts inventory. In addition to the remanufacture and maintenance services, RKTM provides a climate-controlled warehouse where clients can store mission-critical machinery and offers preventative maintenance and repair services for any customers’ equipment upon request.
